

Call for Expression of Interest

FBF Associates in IT/Cyber Risks

12 December 2022

The Florence School of Banking and Finance (Robert Schuman Centre, European University Institute) is welcoming applications from experts professionally and/or scientifically active in the field of IT/cyber risks with a view to expanding and strengthening its digital finance cluster.

Interested candidates should demonstrate a keen interest in engaging with the School on a part-time basis and be committed to the School's public good objective of fostering the development of a common culture of regulation and supervision in the European Union.

We encourage applications from experts with the following background:

- Master's degree or higher
- At least five years of professional experience in an international context
- Teaching experience at bachelor/master/executive education level
- C2 proficiency in English

More specifically, we would welcome thematic expertise in one or more of the following areas:

- Cyber threat landscape in Europe and globally
- Developing and implementing cyber resilience strategies in the financial sector
- Technical training on cyber risk management and international cybersecurity frameworks
- Cyber testing and red-teaming
- Interaction between Cyber Risks and AML/FT
- Systemic cyber risk
- Public-private partnerships in cyber resilience
- Fintech and innovative technology and cyber risks
- ICT Third Party Risk and supervision of CTPP
- DORA
- GDPR/Privacy

Although not a pre-requisite we particularly value profiles with previous experience in prudential supervision (banking/payments; insurance; financial markets).

Interested candidates should send their CV to Daria.VernonDeMars@eui.eu at their earliest convenience. CVs will be reviewed on a rolling basis. Interested experts may be contacted by our team for further clarification or indeed for further details.

For any information, do not hesitate to contact Daria.VernonDeMars@eui.eu
